Subject: Fwd: Prioritize Roofs and Gutters and land slopped away from the building for home repairs
Date: Tuesday, April 12, 2022 3:52:37 PM

Roofing is dangerous work.

The residents can do many of their own improvements below.

Roofs and good water diversion protect the residents and the homes they live in.

Lumber and building materials's rising costs make roofing even more important to save our people's housing stock.

Water diversion, catchment and and reuse for agriculture and/or flushing toilets could be done with neighbors combined on the block to reduce sewage flooding basements and/or overflowing into the Detroit River where we are fined by EPA, for polluting the river with phosphorous responsible for the downstream poisonous Algae Bloom in Toledo.

Can we install Ozonation equipment at the proposed junction alternate good weather bypass in order to begin to separate our sewage system from the storm water system?

Roofing can be dangerous; residents can often perform other repairs. Roofing protects our residents and the houses they live in.
