Four years ago DWSD laid off experienced chemists and transferred their work to operators. The results are dismal as the sampling is faulty and analyses are unreliable. Thus the loads to Detroit River dropped by half and GLWA reports this fiction as fact. I intend to visit the sewage plant with permit writer to expose the coverup. GLWA had ample time to rehire the laid off chemists instead of fighting against them in labor courts. The uncontrolled phosphorus load enhances massive algal blooms in Western Lake Erie.
